Public Inquiry: Tedder Hill Windfarm

It was standing room only when over seventy people gathered in the Memorial Institute on Thursday 1st October for a meeting convened "to give the public an opportunity to provide their views direct to the Planning Inspector". This was just one part of the Planning Inspectorate's Public Inquiry following an Appeal by E. ON UK Plc against the decision by ERYC's Planning Committee to refuse their planning application to erect three wind turbines at Tedder Hill, Roos.

Paul Griffiths, Planning Inspectorate, Bristol, opened proceedings. He described his terms of reference, stating that he would take a relaxed and informal approach and give opportunity for everyone to speak, both for, and against, the development.

He introduced the two teams of representatives and legal advisors from E.ON UK and the ERYC, sitting facing each other across the room. In the audience were County Councillors Richard Stead and John Parsons along with Cllr David Winter (Chair, Roos Parish Council). A representative from Energiekontor UK Ltd,(Monkwith Wind Farm), was also present

During the ensuing three and a half hours, it seemed that every conceivable point against wind turbine developments was addressed. Hardly a stone was left unturned! Each successive speaker was thanked with a warm round of applause to the extent that the Inspector reminded the audience that it would not influence his judgement when considering the evidence before him.

Nobody spoke in favour of the development.

Space does not allow room to quote each individual speaker. However two recurring themes were addressed:

- concern about the cumulative impact that wind turbine developments would have upon the local community linked to the perceived industrialisation of the rural landscape of Holderness, and,
- the questioning of Government energy policies, highlighting the inefficiency of wind-generated energy and accusing them of ignoring the extent of carbon emitted in the manufacture and transportation of materials used in turbine construction and installation.

Among the main submissions was a lengthy, joint statement from Roos and Rimswell Parish Councils, read out by Councillor John McWatt. Following on, Cherie Blenkin, S.H.O.W.T also read a prepared statement. She caused a stir when she introduced a large panoramic photo montage stretching across the entire width of the room. This showed the relative positions and height of the turbines in relationship to the Grade 1 listed Roos Parish Church. The Planning Inspector invited its submission as evidence for consideration.

Mr & Mrs D. Grayson described the proximity of the turbine cluster to their Roos Country Park development as being a real threat to its longer term viability. They alleged that E.ON's submission had taken no account of ERYC's prior approval for its development.

Mr Tony Simpson (Manager of Withernsea Lighthouse) addressed similar concerns about local tourism.

Cllr. Jackie Cracknell, (Vice Chair Roos Parish Council) discussed aspects of cumulative impact and submitted a detailed map as evidence.

Mrs Joy Caine, a resident of Tansterne, received particularly warm applause for her eloquent and passionate speech, summing up many of the concerns about aspects of industrialisation across Holderness. Tansterne, she asserted, was being encircled by wind turbine developments, gas storage sites and a straw burning power generation site.

Willis Ainley (Roos Village Design Statement) sought confirmation that the Inspector would take 'Cumulative Impact' into account and further requested that an overarching regional policy be established to avoid single wind farm developments being considered in isolation from each other.

In summary, by the end of the meeting it was clear that the Inspector had been made fully aware of all the issues and the depth of emotion of the audience. Speakers had frequently expressed their views in forceful terms, sometimes seeking to draw attention to the shortcomings and omissions in E.ON UK's submissions – to the extent that the Inspector advised caution, as some comments 'sailed pretty close to the (legal) wind'.

Unfortunately, given the remit outlined by the Inspector at the start of the meeting, passion and emotion cannot be taken into account; neither can Government policy or the efficiency of wind-powered renewable energy. Those are for debate in another context.

Only time will tell whether the technical arguments linked to the planning shortcomings in E.ON UK Plc's submission will be sufficient to uphold the original decision taken by the ERYC – to refuse the application.

Monkwith Wind Farm

A decision on a planning application received from Energiekontor UK Ltd to erect three wind turbines between Hilston and Tunstall was deferred by the ERYC Planning Committee on Friday 9th October.

The Planning Committee is seeking clarification from the Government on 'cumulative impact' policy guidelines.

In addition they are seeking further information on the impact of the three turbines upon aircraft movements at Garton Airfield.

The map highlights the extent of cumulative impact of wind farm developments upon Roos Parish. The map does not take account of other potential wind-farm sites currently being surveyed.

New Roos-Based Charity

In last month's Rooster some of the local children found themselves open to negative comments, I also noticed in the Post Office that a notice had been put up about 'local children of Roos' destroying bee hives. Whilst I do not condone such behaviour, I think it is important to see the other side to our children and commend the good behaviour of the majority. The 'Phenomenal Four' lifestyle group, as you will have read last month, is made up of four young, local children. This summer they collected and donated £450 to S'bahle's Smile, a Roos-based charity that aims to improve the lives of children affected by HIV & AIDS in South Africa. The generosity of the village and the determination of these children saw the opening of a community account at HSBC for this cause and its first deposit!

S'bahle's Smile is in touch with people in South Africa who are able to guide and advise as to where the money would be most beneficial. Various fund-raising events will be planned in the future and all the monies will be going directly to organisations and projects that help children who either have HIV/AIDS or who have lost their family due to the illness. In raising funds for such projects we also hope to continue to raise awareness of HIV & AIDS closer to home and the work that the lifestyle group have done and the many supporters we could see on the sponsor forms have already been a welcome part of that goal.

We have various fund-raising ideas in the pipeline and will look forward to inviting the village to these events as they are planned. Thank you again to the Phenomenal Four and all who supported them.

Dear Friends in Roos,

As I write this to you there is a feel of autumn in the air although the children have not yet gone back to school. I have had a great summer with a quick visit to the USA for the wedding of our youngest son to his American bride. We had a lovely week.

Earlier in the summer we were in the Outer Hebrides, a five-hour sail out from Oban! It's a whole different landscape out there and truly breathtaking, a great chance to enjoy God's wonderful world.

We certainly 'got away from it all'! We spent one afternoon watching a basking shark and another day a golden eagle, the best view we have ever had of such a wonderful bird. I hope your summer has had wonderful moments too.

During August we had a lovely letter from a child 'to God' posted in the door of our church. It had some great drawings in it as well as a very special prayer of thanks. I would love to say hello to the writer of the letter. Perhaps you would like to get in touch?

Now we will soon be celebrating harvest festival. We plan an evening service in Roos church on Friday October 23rd at 7.30 pm. We hope lots of you will join us. It's so important in these times of change and uncertainty to remember God's goodness to us and to pray for others who are in greater need. Tunstall and Garton both celebrate harvest festival on Friday October 16th, both at 6.30.

With good wishes to you all,

Pam Burdon

Alec's Patch ... By Alec Dodson

The increased interest in growing your own vegetables means that every opportunity should be taken to carry out autumn digging. However don't get carried away with this task, little and often is the old gardener's axiom. Dig so much then do some other work to spread the workload.

Soil dug over early gets a maximum benefit from frost, wind and rain and is easily broken down in the spring.

Shrubs, trees and climbers can be planted now to provide autumn and winter colour for future years.

Roses should have their stems pruned back to one third or a half to avoid wind damage.

Supports for climbers and ramblers should be checked for stability. Ramblers can be pruned now and the long shoots of climbers cut back to avoid wind damage.

Check plants in containers. The summer bedding can now be removed and pansies, primula and bellis planted after replacing the compost, ensuring that the drainage holes are clear before winter rains set in. Raise the pots on feet or bricks to allow free drainage.

It is also time to clean out bird boxes after the nesting season. Put some clean shavings or sawdust in as many birds roost in them during the winter. Also give the bird table and bath a clean as these can be a source of disease when the birds congregate during the autumn and winter.

It was reported that Councillor Ward had recently supplied the Clerk with a list of landowners to approach as to possible land for rental for allotment purposes and it was agreed that the nine individuals be contacted.

Safe routes to school programme

An update was received from ERYC which stated that one of the developers had confirmed that Yorkshire Water had agreed that the drainage was adoptable and that an agreement to allow the work to proceed was in the process of being signed. It was reported that ERYC had agreed to hold any enforcement action in abeyance until the end of September to allow a firm date for the work to commence to be advised.

Details of proposed school safety measures on Main Street were reported from ERYC Highways and welcomed by the Council and confirmation was received from ERYC that the proposed speed reactive sign for Main Street could not presently be considered as there were no funds available to provide any throughout the East Riding.

Hodgson Lane

An e-mail was received from Ward Councillor Stead which stated that he had been assured by Nigel Leighton of ERYC that works to improve Hodgson Lane would commence in April 2010 as no funds were available in this financial year.

Highway matters

A reply from the Area Engineer of ERYC was read which stated that it was hoped to supply the new gullies in South Park and Southend in the near future and that his jetting crew had attended to the gully adjacent to Aotearoa on Main Street and removed a considerable amount of debris from the system.

He also confirmed that the finger post at the Burton Road/New Road, Owstwick junction had been repaired and that the give-way markings had been refurbished and arrangements were in hand to repair the give-way sign at the location.

Tunstall sea embankment

Councillor Craggs produced a further photograph showing the temporary rock bank supplied by the Environment Agency to provide defences over the coming winter.

Lifestylers

It was reported that the wayside seat was now in position on Main Street and the Council expressed pleasure with the results of the efforts of the Lifestylers.

Flooding and related matters

A reply was received from the Area Engineer of ERYC which stated that he had spoken with Michael Brown in ERYC Environmental Services who had confirmed to him that a price for clearing trees/bushes to allow better access to the grille off Lamb Lane would be shortly available.

It was reported that ERYC had re-surveyed the potted section of the beck in Beckside Manor and that in the presence of the Chairman and Councillor Grant no obstructions were found in the system downstream towards the open beck.

With regard to the tree which had fallen into the beck between Lamb Lane and Dove Lane it was reported that Neil Ager of ERYC was aware of the situation and Councillor Ward offered to speak with the riparian owner to request the early removal of the tree. It was also reported that tree roots had been removed from the system in Chestnut Garth.

Correspondence

Minutes

A letter was received from The Rooster Association requesting e-mailing copies of the minutes and it was agreed that a copy be forwarded to Councillor Coupe before each meeting with proviso that they are not published prior to the Council confirming them as a true record and that they also be forwarded to Mr Ainley for the website after they have been ratified.
