

The Rooster

Merry Christmas & A Happy New Year to all readers from The Rooster Association.

THE ROOSTER 2007

Retrospect

The Rooster started in August 1985 and usually appeared monthly from then onwards. There were some lapses (e.g. when there were printing problems). In the 1990s it was for a time published only when there were special events to record but eventually monthly publication resumed. The current issue is No.152.

The Rooster Association

The Association was formed in July 2006 with a Committee of eight with power to co-opt up to three further members. An immediate benefit was the election of a Treasurer and the opening of the newsletter's own bank account.

The current officers are :

Chairman Alec Dodson Secretary Leslie Helliwell
Vice-Chair Ann Coupe Treasurer Ken Cross

The Committee

The Committee shared out some of the tasks formerly undertaken solely by the Editor, Leslie Helliwell. In January 2007 he informed colleagues that he would shortly be in hospital and therefore unable to edit the February issue. A sub-committee was set up (the Editorial Group) to prepare and publish the newsletter. Its current members are Ann Coupe, Alec Dodson and Bob Feetom.

All three were diffident since they did not feel equipped for the task. They are all the more to be congratulated on keeping The Rooster going so well in subsequent months. Her two fellow members would agree that the greatest burden has fallen on Ann Coupe, who has in addition acted as Distribution Manager.

Layout and printing

When we lost the services of our local designer Lawson Lewis offered to do the job and was warmly welcomed as a co-opted member of the Committee.

His dissatisfaction with the quality of the photographs reproduced coincided with the retirement of our Hull printer. Lawson reckoned that the purchase of a laser printer would bring economies, not least because there would be no petrol expenses incurred in taking the master copy to a professional printer.

He researched laser printers on the internet and worked out a likely budget. Our Treasurer warmly supported the proposal and a laser printer was bought. It has already paid for itself in savings.

The home of Ann Coupe and Lawson Lewis has become the focus of Rooster production. The printer and its materials are housed there. Ann convenes the Editorial Group and organises the distribution of printed copies. Lawson types and lays out the material on each page and prints the copies. We owe them a great debt.

Support and feedback from readers

Donations and occasional appreciative comments show that The Rooster is well supported but more opinions and recommendations would be appreciated.

The Annual General Meeting of The Rooster Association will provide an opportunity to express them. It will be held in The Black Horse on 21st February 2008 at 7.30pm. Light refreshments will be provided.

The Committee intend to include, as well as the normal business agenda, an informal session for general comment and discussion.

The newsletter belongs to its donors. All are members of the Association. Please note the AGM date now and resolve to come along to give the small but hard-working Committee the benefit of your suggestions. Our voluntary deliverers are especially invited.

Leslie Helliwell

Alec's Patch* By Alec Dodson

Christmas is a peak time for house plants to be given attention. Some need special care. Azalea, Citrus (Calamondin Orange) and Solanum winter cherry, all need extra humidity. Spray them with tepid water. Cyclamen keep better in a cool room and always water from the bottom. Hyacinths, Narcissus and Tulips also appear as Christmas gifts. These will last well if the compost is kept moist and the room is not too hot. They can be planted into the garden later and will last for years to come. Finally cut holly and bring indoors now to prevent the birds eating the berries. Keep in a cool place, in water, until using for decoration.

Best Wishes for Christmas

Six Months On

This photograph was taken at Sand-le-Mere following the recent high tides. It demonstrate the vulnerability of our coastline. The cliffs were overtopped and seawater flooded onto agricultural land leaving a tidemark of pebbles and plastic rubbish as it flowed towards Tunstall Drain. The protective earth bank was almost breached.

Counties further down the east coast were on stand-by and emergency planning arrangements were put in place. Residents with homes at risk were moved into schools and village halls until the threat had passed. In the event the tidal surge caused by a low-pressure weather system and seasonal high tides combined with a strong northerly wind fell just 20cm short of its predicted height.

One can only speculate about the extent of flooding along Tunstall Drain should this height have been reached.

A report recently commissioned by the ERYC, comments upon the effects that climate change will have upon the region. It indicates an increase of extreme weather events and rising sea levels.

The findings of the report, linked to the extensive damage and disruption caused by the unusually heavy rainfall of June 2007 indicates why the ERYC is encouraging local parish councils and communities to develop their own Community Emergency Preparedness Plan ready for implementation when similar events occur in the future.

The majority of skips containing flood-damaged house contents have now been removed from Roos and some residents are now beginning to return to their homes and rebuild their life.

It is almost six months since the flooding of June 2007 and as the festive season approaches it is easy to forget the level of distress and damage experienced at the time and for complacency to set in. It is easy to say that it was a one off or it will never happen again. But can one be absolutely sure?

The findings of a report entitled Knee Deep in Paull commissioned by Paull Parish Council from construction engineer Simon Taylor, reported in The Gazette on 15th November 2007 serve as a timely reminder of what needs to be done to prevent such events occurring again.

The report states, “ The flooding was the result of a long series of failures. Leave any one unresolved and the potential for it all to happen again is very real. We have forgotten the important role the land drains played in protecting the village, while putting more faith on modern hard drainage systems. Level drainage is a well thought out and executed system demonstrating a high level of expertise and understanding of drainage by the original builders. Had the level drainage been in good condition and effective then the volume of standing water caused by the hard drains backing up would have been considerably reduced” It continues: “The statutory bodies and others are guilty of neglecting the drainage system, downgrading its priority and failing to maintain these vital assets. Let the lessons be learned.”

One of the main recommendations is that Paull Parish Council develop its own independent flood plan and strategy and establish a village store of sandbags. The Clerk to Paull Parish Council is reported as saying, “We’re taking a pro-active role. We can’t undo past flooding, but we don’t want it to happen again.”

As reported in The Rooster, Roos Parish Council has decided to develop its own plan and strategy covering all types of emergency. The ERYC provide guidance and a template to assist communities develop their own Community Preparedness Plan.

It is essential that this plan be completed, but it is even more imperative that all possible precautions should be taken to prevent the flooding in Roos happening again. This was nothing to do with the sea. It was the drains and dykes.

The grant of £5000 made available by ERYC to Roos Parish Council to alleviate damage, which has now been approved, could be used towards this end.

ROOS PARISH EMERGENCY PLAN

Members of the Emergency Planning Committee would like to thank those parishioners who completed the questionnaire and all those who have helped with the preparation of the plan.

JELLY TOTS CHRISTMAS FAYRE

The Christmas Fayre was held on Sunday 2nd December in the Roos Playing Field Pavilion. The weather wasn't kind to us as it was a horrid day. However, a few people did venture out. The cake stall was very popular as too were the tombola and raffle. The main raffle prize, a family ticket to The Deep was won by Liza Buttle and the signed Hull City Football was won by Granny Pat, also known as Chocca's mum although I believe Chocca has since made claim! The 6ft orange shark was won by councillor Jackie Cracknell who correctly guessed the name Fergal (as in Fergal Sharkey!). I'm sure Jackie is delighted!!

On the day we raised £240.00

Jelly Tots would like to thank all those who came and supported us, as in a small rural community with limited facilities, local support and help is vital to enable organizations such as ours to continue.

Jelly Tots meet every Monday (term time only) in the playing field pavilion 9.30-11.30. If you have any enquiries please contact either: Sarah Inglis 670808, Tracey Proby 670477 or Anne Ward 670499.

MISSION IMPROBABLE THE THREE PEAK CHALLENGE

You will remember that in June 2007 the team's goal was to climb Ben Nevis, Scafell Pike and Snowden in 24 hours.

Thanks to all those who supported us. We are still considering next years' challenge.

CHURCH NEWS

Anglican: Roos United Benefice

NEWS FROM ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Following on from the retirement of our Priest-in-Charge, Rev. Gordon Smethurst, the benefice is now in what is called an Interregnum i.e. we have no permanent priest. Subsequent meetings with other Benefice Churchwardens and our Rural Dean Tony Burdon, and the Archdeacon of the East Riding, David Butterfield, confirm that this is likely to remain the case until 2011 when a number of clergy in South Holderness retire. Then a re-organisation of the clergy in South Holderness is likely to take place. Roos Parochial Church Council continues to be committed to the continuation of services within this parish and the maintenance of the building and graveyard. Services will continue in the five parishes as they have done in the past with visiting Priests and Readers. Contact number for services such as Weddings, Funerals and Baptisms in the first instance is 01964 671659 for Churchwarden and we can then advise you of the people you need to contact and for Pastoral care. Tony Burdon who is overseeing this arrangement can be contacted on 01964 601381.
